SUMMARY

I build the AI systems GTM teams run on: lead sourcing and enrichment, outreach sequencing, AI agents that handle replies, and pipeline visibility. I design, ship and operate them end to end, from data model and API integrations to deploys, cost limits and failure recovery, and they run real revenue work every day at Creative Music Television and Area 51 Radio.

EXPERIENCE

AI Automation Engineer & Technical Lead — Dallas, TX

Creative Music Television (CTV)

- Orbit, AI prospecting and outreach: built a system that can serve several client organizations, each seeing only its own data, on Supabase (24 tables, 19 edge functions). It finds and fills in lead details, runs outreach sequences from a queue that blocks duplicates and retries failures, and uses a Claude agent to read and answer replies. A model rewrites the outreach copy every week. It manages 2,584 leads and 31k+ industry contacts.
- The Captain's HQ, Claude operations console: the Next.js console the business runs on. Claude looks up live pipeline data, streams its answers and uses prompt caching under usage limits. It rebuilds its context, runs 77 tests and redeploys every morning.
- CMW Autopost: a scheduled GitHub Actions pipeline that has published 260+ Instagram Reels and YouTube Shorts unattended, with retries and duplicate protection.
- Grant Radar: scores funding opportunities across 8 weighted criteria, explains each score and drafts the start of each application.

Product Engineer — Dallas, TX

Area 51 Radio

- Built The Motion Hub, a self-serve marketing platform for independent creators (Next.js, Prisma, 28 data models, 53 API routes), with Stripe credit packs and subscriptions.
- Connected OpenAI, HeyGen, Spotify, TikTok and Meta, and added scheduled jobs that sync opportunities daily and tune ad campaigns every 6 hours.

Content Systems & Production Lead — Dallas–Fort Worth
